Collegiate Chapter Advisers

Advisory Team Summary

Chapter advisory team members are responsible for working with chapter officers in specific areas. The main advisory team consists of advisory team chair (ATC), Honor Board adviser, member education adviser, membership adviser and chapter financial adviser (CFA). As more volunteers are available, additional advisers may sometimes be added to meet the needs of the chapter in areas such as programming, Foundation, communications, new members, etc.

Adviser Position Descriptions

As collegiate leaders develop their leadership style and pursue their chapter goals, the adviser's role is to:

- Foster an advisory team and chapter culture designed to mirror Article II of the Fraternity Constitution.
- Support and empower the collegians as they work to achieve the goals that they set for themselves.
- Coach collegians by utilizing a ritual and values-based approach.
- Coach collegiate members to use Fraternity resources, policies and external resources.
- Demonstrate leadership by example of lifetime membership within the Fraternity.

Details for various adviser roles are included in the following pages.

Advisory team chair (ATC)

Position Summary: This position will be a dues-paying alumna serving as the primary representative of the collegiate chapter advisory team. While this role mainly advises the chapter president and the director of committees, the ATC is also responsible for advising any vice presidents and subsequent directors for areas in which there is an adviser vacancy.

Charge: As collegiate leaders develop their leadership style and pursue their chapter goals, the adviser's role is to foster an advisory team and chapter culture designed to mirror Article II of the Fraternity Constitution, as well as to support and empower the collegians as they work to achieve the goals that they set for themselves. Utilizing a ritual and values-based approach, advisers should coach collegians to follow Fraternity standards and to use Fraternity and Foundation resources, policies and external resources. Advisers should demonstrate leadership and be an example of lifetime membership within the Fraternity.

Key Relationships

- Regional Director (RD)
- Regional Collegiate Specialist (RCS)/New Chapter Coordinator (NCC)/Council Appointed Coordinator (CAC)
- collegiate chapter president
- collegiate chapter officers
- advisory team members
- house corporation board president, as applicable
- local alumnae group officers
- Evaluating Committee (EVC)
 - EVC consists of the president, vp: membership, director of recruitment records, director of primary recruitment, director of continuous recruitment and retention, ATC and membership adviser

- Regularly communicates and meets weekly, either virtually or in person, with chapter officers under their advisement.
- Is recommended to participate, whether virtually or in person, in the transition meeting for the director of funds.

Advisory Team

- Reports to the CFA.
- Regularly communicates with their volunteer supervisor.
- Attends, either virtually or in person, chapter meeting on a rotating basis with other advisers.
- Participates, either virtually or in person, in advisory team meetings as called by the advisory team chair (ATC).

Remote Consideration: This role could be held by a remote volunteer.

Revised 02/2020

Membership Adviser

Position Summary: This position will be a dues-paying alumna serving as a member of the collegiate chapter advisory team. This role mainly advises the vp: membership, as well as any additional directors who fall under their area, unless another adviser is specifically designated for those roles. In the absence of a recruitment records adviser and/or continuous recruitment adviser, the membership adviser would also advise the directors with whom those roles work.

Charge: As collegiate leaders develop their leadership style and pursue their chapter goals, the adviser's role is to foster an advisory team and chapter culture designed to mirror Article II of the Fraternity Constitution, as well as to support and empower the collegians as they work to achieve the goals that they set for themselves. Utilizing a ritual and values-based approach, advisers should coach collegians to follow Fraternity standards and to use Fraternity and Foundation resources, policies and external resources. Advisers should demonstrate leadership and be an example of lifetime membership within the Fraternity.

Key Relationships

- Regional Collegiate Recruitment Specialist (RCRS)/New Chapter Recruitment Coordinator (NCRC)/Collegiate Recruitment Coordinator (CRC)
- advisory team chair (ATC)
- collegiate chapter officers; specifically, the vp: membership, director of primary recruitment, and members of the Evaluating Committee (EVC), and the directors of recruitment records and continuous recruitment and retention if no designated adviser for their positions
 - EVC consists of the president, vp: membership, director of recruitment records, director of primary recruitment, director of continuous recruitment and retention, ATC and membership adviser
- recruitment records adviser and continuous recruitment adviser, as applicable
- campus fraternity/sorority adviser and campus Panhellenic
- chapter financial adviser (CFA)

Member Education Adviser

Position Summary: This position will be a dues-paying alumna serving as a member of the collegiate chapter advisory team. This role mainly advises the vp: member education, as well as any additional directors who fall under their area, unless another adviser is specifically designated for those roles. In the absence of a new member education adviser, scholarship adviser, and/or rituals adviser, the member education adviser would also advise the directors with whom those roles work, provided the chapter officer structure includes those roles.

Charge: As collegiate leaders develop their leadership style and pursue their chapter goals, the adviser's role is to foster an advisory team and chapter culture designed to mirror Article II of the Fraternity Constitution, as well as to support and empower the collegians as they work to achieve the goals that they set for themselves. Utilizing a ritual and values-based approach, advisers should coach collegians to follow Fraternity standards and to use Fraternity and Foundation resources, policies and external resources.
