

Multi-Purpose Programming Guide

Multi-purpose programming is when you can use a single chapter gathering to accomplish multiple tasks.

Why multi-purpose programming is important:

- It allows you to fulfill your chapter/campus programming requirements efficiently.
- It ensures that you are using chapter members' time and energy meaningfully.
- Chapter members will have more time to have fun.

How to identify multi-purpose programming opportunities:

- What programs could be planned together to fulfill requirements in two (or more) areas?
- What activities allow multiple officers to work together?
- Which programs share the same outcomes?
- How could you adjust a program or add to a program to support two or more requirements?

Examples of multi-purpose programming:

business chapter meeting	▶	vote on calendar + vote on budget + vote on bylaws and standing rules + senior recognition + sisterhood <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Plan during a chapter meeting or skip chapter this week and send announcements via email.
